COFFIN INTERIORS

INTRODUCTION TO THE PRINTED COFFIN INTERIOR RANGE

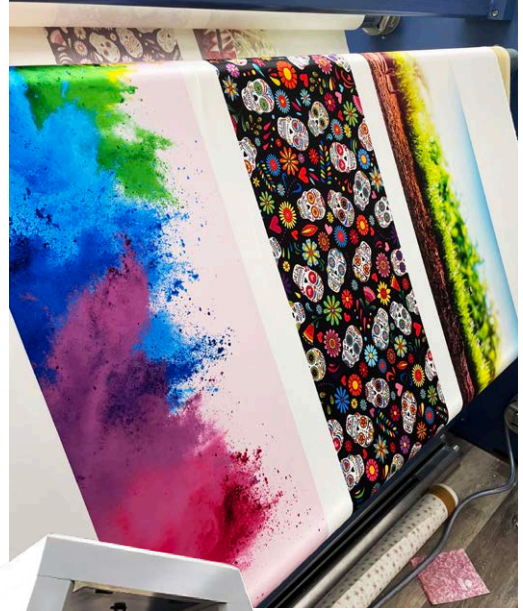

As a leading supplier, we can proudly announce, that we have successfully engineered a production application that will allow for bespoke designed interiors to be UK printed and manufactured at scale.

THE PRINTED COFFIN INTERIOR RANGE

This follows the principles that Printed wrapped coffins were intended for, but we seek to make it more inclusive. The interior and the items placed within a coffin are very personal to family and friends. Its something that they can choose to do or say to their loved one that is private, whilst at the same time comforting in the knowledge that they are surrounded by pictorial thoughts and words that reflect their lives.

The innovation allows limitless designs and ideas, whether that be to represent the persons hobbies or interests. Perhaps scenery or landscapes that were shared, images of family and friends or farewell words that loved ones would like to say, this is all possible to create.

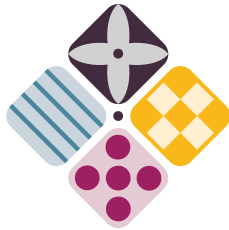

*Precision
Laser Textile
Cutter*

As a leading and progressive supplier, we sought to overcome production challenges and can proudly announce, that for the first time, have engineered a solution that will allow for bespoke designed interiors to be UK printed and manufactured at scale. Such scale and techniques will allow for entry costs that limit the financial burden that can preclude clients from choosing something that is so emotive.

PRINTED

THE INNOVATION AND TECHNOLOGY

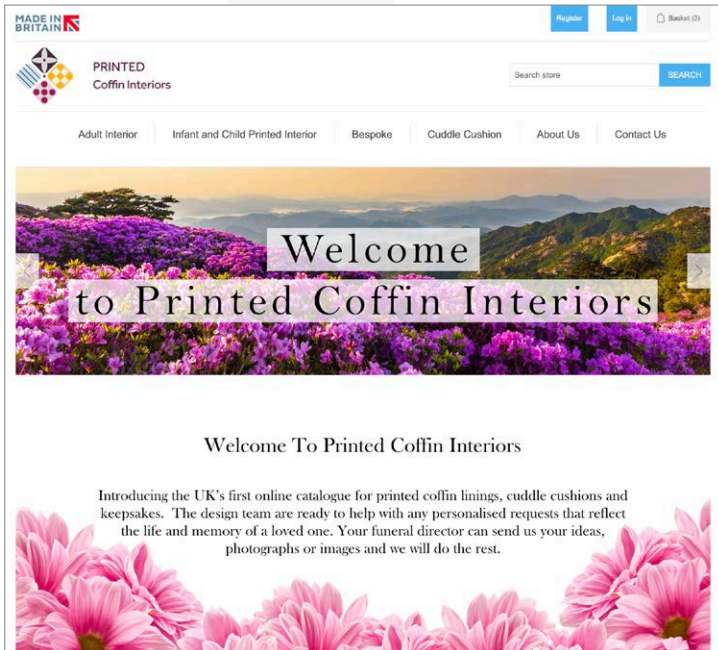

The challenge was to transfer designs or images onto textiles within our own production facility at speed and at scale. The solution was to use Dye – Sublimation printing. This process involves a computer printing technique which uses heat to transfer 'water based' dyes onto fabric. The sublimation process is permanent, with high resolution and full colour printing.

The printed fabric is prepared and machined into the finished interior using the latest garment manufacturing technology. High precision laser cutting, quilting, lace making and pillow production are all areas that have been automated to give the scale required. what is available and indeed possible.

THE WEBSITE

The website www.printedcoffininteriors.co.uk has been launched. The website is fully interactive and provides a good platform for funeral directors to show clients what is available, and indeed what is possible working with the design team.

RANGE DEVELOPMENT – PLEASE HELP US

Please help us to help you, send us your ideas or those of your clients. It is important we develop a range that, aside from the bespoke offering, broadly reflects the wishes of clients.

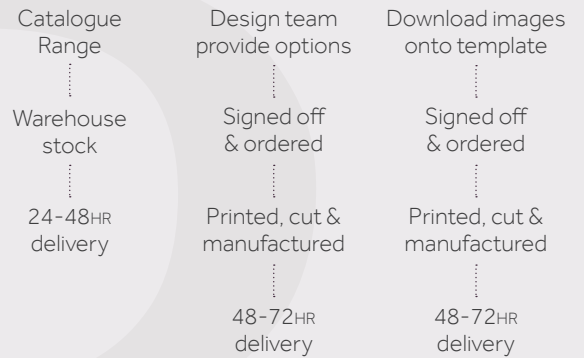

Hobbies, interests, nature, sport, scenery, it doesn't matter what or how diverse, we want to help you offer your clients exactly what they want for their loved ones.

Please email us on sales@printedcoffininteriors.co.uk with suggestions.

HOW WILL WE ACHIEVE OUR AMBITIONS?

INFANT AND CHILD RANGE- OUR PLEDGE

Providing an option for bereaved families who have lost young children was a key motivator in developing this range innovation. Thankfully the death of a young person is rare but sadly it does happen, and we want to be able to offer our help.

It is our pledge that any profit generated from the sale of infant or child interiors will be donated yearly to a child bereavement charity. This donation will be communicated via appropriate media.

Unique and Personalised Interiors

Design process

We offer an increasing range of catalogue designs that may suit your clients wishes. However, your client can have something unique or personalised.

There is no limit on designs and ideas. Whether that be to represent a person's hobbies or interests. Scenery or landscapes shared, images of family and friends. Even farewell handwritten letters, drawn pictures or words that loved ones would like to accompany the person that's passed away.

Step 4

We will email the design image for client approval. Each submitted design is allocated two amendments FOC for you to change anything, for example, Text, Colour, Personalised images & Font.

Family and friends may want to surround their loved one with pictures, maybe momentous life moments or just good times shared. Individual pictures will mean different things to different people, but photos frame the time spent with the person that has passed away.

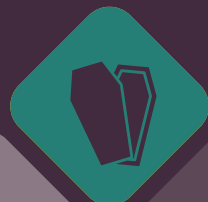

Alternatively, clients might like to write a letter, a poem or short note even a doodle.

The design team have created interiors with beautiful backgrounds. Photos and handwritten notes can be scanned and printed onto the interiors in set positions. The following designs, and others shown in the catalogue section, are ideas we think work well. However, clients can use these as guides and choose anything they would like.

It could be a favourite animal, pastime, job, humour, personality, hobby, memory.....anything that fits and will maybe bring a smile or some peace.

Sports Fans Range

As a nation, we are sports mad, so much of our lives revolve around sports and our favourite teams. Time spent watching, supporting and discussing evokes so many memories of the highs and lows of sport which is ever present in ones life.

A person that has had a lifelong passion for a team may like to plan their funeral around this theme. Families and friends can also make that choice during arrangements on their behalf.

A printed coffin interior is a perfect way to harness this often mutually shared interest, allowing someone's final resting place to reflect something that will have been so integral to their lives and of those lives of loved ones left behind.

The PCI designers will work with Funeral Directors and their clients to achieve a solution.

The Leslie R Tipping Group was established in Stockport, the Stockport County FC interior shown reflects what is possible.

Alternative Interiors

We have developed an interior, our standard, that we feel reflects an overall aesthetic that compliments the printed elements. This specification is highlighted and detailed throughout the brochure.

However, PCI is about choice, we are therefore pleased to offer some alternative interiors. These interiors will allow Funeral Directors the option to offer clients the same design concept whilst providing some variety on the overall interior look and feel.

The design process will follow the same simple steps as for our standard interior. Unless notified, we will work according to our standard specification, so please be clear when ordering, if an alternative interior is required.

Complimentary Products

Complimentary Products

When planning a personalised and comforting farewell, complimentary products like cuddle cushions and scatter tubes enhance the overall experience of coffin interiors.

Scatter tubes, crafted to complement the design, serve as elegant and practical vessels for scattering ashes in a meaningful location. These products add a thoughtful touch, ensuring that every aspect of the farewell is cohesive and reflective of the individual's memory and the family's wishes.

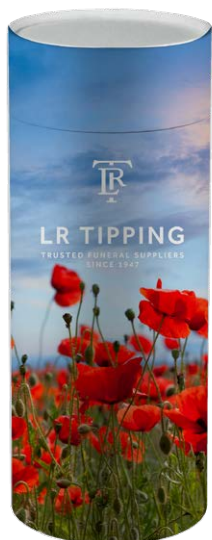

Cuddle cushions, often designed to match the coffin interior, provide a sense of warmth and solace, offering a tangible connection for loved ones.

Together, these products create a harmonious and personalised tribute that honors the departed in a dignified and heartfelt manner.

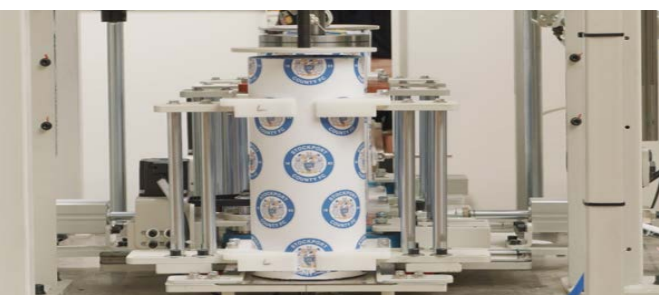

08 Scatter Tubes

Order any design, whether that be a catalogue print or a unique design to meet with families exacting wishes. We can also produce branded designs for funeral directors to promote their image.

Recent investment in bespoke machinery allows us to make the popular Ash Scatter Tubes within our own manufacturing facility.

To date, the UK supply of Scatter Tubes has been manufactured and shipped from the Far East. We are the first supplier manufacturing at scale in Britain, offering additional carbon footprint benefits with this environmentally friendly option.

We will be offering 4 standard sizes:

Small 120 Cu. In. – 25cm in height by 11cm in width (suitable for splitting ashes – will hold 50%)

Mini 25 Cu. In. – 13.5cm in height by 7.5cm in width (suitable for a token scattering)

Keepsake 4 Cu. In. – 9cm in height by 3.5cm in width (suitable for keepsakes)

BA Hons in Fashion innovation and Entrepreneurship

I went to Hull University and achieved a Bachelors in Fashion and Business in which I achieved a first-class Honours.

On receiving my degree, I was approached by Fabrics UK to visit their site and was instantly met by a team of welcoming and friendly staff. I started straight away and never looked back as I thoroughly enjoy my work and the challenges it sets. Fabrics has allowed me to further my knowledge with industrial machinery allowing me to create beautiful bespoke products for clients. Working together as a team has allowed us to further expand the business.

CAITLIN GRAILY, AGE 23

Qualifications

BA Hons in Fashion innovation and Entrepreneurship

I went to Hull University and achieved a Bachelors in Fashion and Business in which I achieved a Second Class Honours.

Fabrics UK approached me after wanting to expand their design team. Working at Fabrics has allowed me to further my knowledge within the funeral industry, knowing nothing at all when I first started. Having a background in design has definitely helped with the technology fabrics has introduced. Working as team with Danni has allowed us to grow printed coffin interiors to what it is today, and we are very proud of this.
